LOCAL NEWS ITEMS OF THE TOWN AND DISTRICT

Bert Boos a number of the short staff is away on a holiday jump to Waterton Lakes. He took R. Ragan along for company.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thompson and children left Saturday for Sylvan Lake where they will holiday for the next couple of weeks.

Looking over the list of men who have enlisted from Gleichen it is to be noted that in no less than eight instances brothers have enlisted. Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bogie's sons; Mrs. Guittrich's; Mrs. Walker's; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Taylor; Mr. and Mrs. R. Woods; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Murray; J. M. Hughes' sons and Mr. Clifford 2 sons.

For a while Saturday evening it looked as if hail would strike the district but it passed on south and did some damage south of Arrowwood. A regular cloudburst occurred north east of town over a small area where rain was much needed. Not much rain fell in town.

Hugh Wilson had tough luck at the Calgary stampede with his chuck wagon outfit. In the first race after rounding the first barrel his lead team turned around and tried to face the whole team. After the race straightened out they got away but came in far behind the other outfits. In the last race Friday night the horses made a run around the last barrel so fast that the wagon turned upside down on the race track. The driver was thrown clear and was unhurt. This spill brought the great crowd to its feet in the excitement.

Prince Edward Island will continue to be Canada only dry province. Complete returns in the liquor plebiscite held recently show 10,429 for existing prohibition and 8,861 for sale of beer and wine. The soldiers there do not think nearest line elevator agent. Their vote was 1000 to 28 in favor of repeal.

In order to assist farmers in identifying weeds, the line elevators have established a special weed seed file. Farmers who find any type of weed in their fields with which they are not familiar are invited to take it to their nearest line elevator agent. The weed will then be sent to the agricultural department of the North West Line Elevators' Association for identification. In this heretofore a collection has been made of every type of weed and weed seed which grows in Western Canada. If the farmer so desires he may obtain from the Line Elevators' Agricultural Department the latest approved methods for control and eradication of the weed. This is just one of the many services provided by the agricultural department set up in cooperation with the Line Elevators companies under the direction of Dr. K. W. Nesbitt, one of the outstanding agriculturists of Western Canada.

Provincial employment figures show a decrease of 527 in those seeking jobs for the week ending July 13 over the corresponding week in 1939. Registered with the bureau are 6,413 Alberta men and women.

Alberta butter makers won more than half of the total prizes at the Calgary exhibition according to word received by the provincial department of agriculture. This record is in keeping with the rapid advance made in the province during recent years. Alberta creameries won 51 per cent of the awards. Manitoba won 46 per cent. Saskatchewan took 34 per cent of the prizes while B.C. and Quebec followed with 27 and 21 per cent respectively.

Frank Michael who is now with the R.C.A.F. in Brandon, Manitoba, wishes to express thanks to all and everyone, that helped with his gifts to make his trip there pleasant. He also extends his thanks to the Red Cross. Every gift was sincerely appreciated.

Citizens Will Entertain Soldiers Enlisted From This District

On Friday evening the people of Gleichen and vicinity will entertain the soldiers who have enlisted in the 22nd Battery from this district. At the request of the townspeople the commanding officer granted the boys leave for the 19th to come to Gleichen for this entertainment. It was at one time planned to have a banquet but it was cancelled and a smoker arranged to take its place. The smoker will be held in the Legion hall starting shortly after supper and will be over by 9 o'clock. Judging from reports this will likely be largely attended.

At nine o'clock a dance will take place in the Community hall to which everyone in the town and district is invited to attend and help make it an event to be remembered.

As the Battery may be moved anytime this may be the last opportunity to give the boys a grand send-off. It is not the desire to make money at the dance, therefore, the price of admission will be very small merely large enough to cover the actual expenses. So let's see a large turn out for the occasion. Remember the bigger the crowd the better the time.

Survivors leaders to share in the deliberations of the war cabinet. The leaders of the C.C.F. and the Social Credit parties also implied that they could not accept as a basis for their policy to support socialistic and money policies that the larger parties in the house had not advocated.

I am under the impression that if the positions had been reversed and Mr. King had been asked to sit in a Conservative war cabinet that he too would have refused. He is a strong advocate of parliamentary government. This system requires a government made up of the leaders of the party having the majority in the House of Commons and of a watchdog, aggressive opposition ready to criticize and condemn any policy or action that they disagree with. A strong opposition has a real function and is one of the important factors in assuring good government. It is the British system that has stood the test of time and has been evolved after long years of trial and error.

Right after the clash Mr. King went across and, in the most friendly fashion, showed Mr. Hanson the conservative leader, some long confidential war messages.

The response to the registration will be a measure of the loyalty of the Canadian people. This step has been strongly urged by the conservative and Mr. Hanson, the conservative leader, some long confidential war messages. The response to the registration will be a measure of the loyalty of the Canadian people. This step has been strongly urged by the conservative and Mr. Hanson, the conservative leader, some long confidential war messages.

Every man and woman over 16 years of age will be asked to go to a specially appointed place and fill out a card. About three days will be allowed for this. A great voluntary appeal will be made. Churches, service clubs, lodges and all similar organizations, will be urged to help. At an election only 70 per cent of the voters can be induced to go to the polls but 100 per cent of the people will be asked to go to show their loyalty in this effort. To avoid last minute congestion, early registration will be greatly appreciated as soon as the booths are opened.

RED CROSS NOTES

Every one is taking out those articles which have been tucked away, taking up storage space these many years. What for? Why for the Red Cross Rummage Sale of course.

Cash donations are coming in from many sources and these are very gratefully accepted. Two weeks ago forty enterprising young people operated a hamburger stand to serve the Saturday night crowd from which $11.30 was realized. The Anglican Sunday school agreed to forgo their 1940 picnic and instead of the money thus saved, $5 for the refugee work. Mrs. McConnell sold flowers from her garden and handed over the sum of $1 to the Red Cross.

By way of introducing a little variety into their Monday afternoon work meetings, a prize has been donated by Mrs. Michael and a safe ticket may be purchased. The draw will take place at tea time. The money thus collected will go to buy quilts.

Fifteen very fine quilts have been made by the ladies since the beginning of the other refugee sewing, surgical supplies and bandages.

THE WINE IN EDMONTON

Alberta honey production was valued at $124,000 according to figures released by Hon. D. B. Mulen, minister of agriculture. In 1937 the value was $100,000. At the time there were 200 bee keepers in Alberta while in 1939 the number is given as 2,000.

Names of 28 Alberta citizens have been changed since the beginning of the war, according to reports from the provincial secretary's department. These included enlisted men and university students. Since the act was passed in 1916, 23 Albertans have taken advantage of its provisions. Applications for change may be made only by British subjects, by birth or by naturalization. Notice of each application must be published in the applicants' local paper and in

OLIVER STANDARD "70"

Here's Efficient, Modern Power For Fast, Modern Harvesting

Roll easily and quickly through your harvest work with an Oliver "70" as it drives and pulls a 4-foot combine, a tractor blower or a 2-row corn picker. Make just one round in the field and you'll know the "70" has everything, does everything and is a beauty to operate as well as to see—you'll know the why of its easy handling and fast working speeds that get jobs done in a hurry at lowest cost.

Smooth, lively 6-cylinder "70" power is ideal for operating combines or similar power take-off jobs, and for belt work such as driving a 23-hp. threshing. The steady overlapping power of six cylinders means more effective delivered power for such work. Power take-off and belt pulley speeds depend directly on engine speed, and are independent of tractor speed. Major slip clutch on all gears. From the comfortable driver's seat, and automatic steering, men, easier driving, time-saving operation. The Oliver Variable Speed Governor Control enables you to use only the fuel needed for the work.

Oliver builds the "70" in two fuel types for maximum fuel efficiency—the "70" HC with high compression engine for gasoline, and the "70" KD with engine designed for kerosene or distillate. Risk your fuel and your "70" Get modern low cost tractor power. See us today about a demonstration.

Trends In Migration

Due to the course that the war in Europe is taking it looks as if the foundations of the solution of one of Canada's major problems—that of additional population—are being laid at the present time. Reference is made, of course, to the decision of the Canadian government to offer the hostilities of these shores to refugee children "for the duration" and no doubt before the war is over adult refugees will be invited to make this country their home.

During the discussions on immigration which have taken place at meetings of various organizations and in the public press in Western Canada in the past three or four years, while the Hornby and other immigration schemes were under consideration, there has invariably been laid on the importance and advisability of encouraging the migration of British stock, for in many quarters it was felt that it was desirable to numerically strengthen the local white population by infiltration of those who have been nurtured in the principles and ideals for the maintenance of which we are now waging a gigantic struggle.

At that time—two or three years ago—considerable opposition to additional migration to Western Canada and more particularly the prairie provinces, was raised by farmer and labor organizations, on economic grounds. It was felt then by the objectors, that there would be great difficulty in absorbing the large number of new population which would arise and during a period when farmers were unable to make a margin of profit out of their operations.

To what extent these adverse economic conditions will be ameliorated as the war progresses, it is impossible to predict at this stage. Much will depend upon the duration of the conflict and a great deal will depend upon the rapidity with which the reverses sustained during the earlier months of the war can be repaired and offset by progressive gains.

New Duty Arises

While none in this country doubt that there may have any reason to question the ultimate success of the Allied forces, the time that will be necessary to ensure a complete Allied triumph is still an uncertain factor. While the aim is yet unrolling one cannot always be certain how long it will take to reach the happy ending.

Because of the uncertainty the economic picture in prospect is dimmed for the time being. While markets for some Canadian commodities seem to be disappearing, others are opening up and the picture is bound to change, perhaps many times, before the fighting is over.

Meanwhile, it is the duty of Western Canada to carry on its efforts to prosecute the war with the utmost vigor, and, for agriculture, this involves an assurance that there will always be on hand a plentiful supply of food commodities and other supplies for the fighting forces, so that they may be available as and when required.

As a result of recent developments another duty opens up for the people of Western Canada and that is to welcome and provide a comparatively safe harborage for many children of British birth whose lives are threatened by the German war machine. The term "comparatively" is used because while even this country is jeopardized, it is recognized that, for the present at least, prairie homes and their occupants are not subject to the perils which invest the women, the children and the aged in the British Isles.

Leading To Settlement

Just how many of these British children of school age—from five to 16 years—will ultimately find a safe temporary home in Canada, is impossible to say, but a first contingent of 10,000 is provided for under an agreement between the British and Canadian governments.

In the light of the large number of school children endangered by war hazards in Great Britain, ten thousand looks like a drop in the bucket, but there are many limiting factors, not the least of which is the availability of temporary facilities. Other limitations are the number of British parents who will prefer to keep their children at home rather than entrust them to others and the number of Canadians who will be found willing to take these children into their homes.

Insofar as Western Canadians are concerned it can be taken for granted that there will be very many who are willing to throw all selfish considerations aside and will be ready to take these temporarily "orphaned" war victims.

That this influx of temporary visitors will mean some additions to the permanent citizenry of this country, there can be no doubt. Coming to Canada at impressionable and formative ages, many of them will readily fall into the ways and customs of the country very speedily and will wish to remain and make their home here, and if the war is of considerable duration as, indeed, it may be, the younger ones will grow up here and when old enough to leave school will be decided that they cannot do better than make this country their home.

When the war is over it cannot be doubted that many of those who, because of circumstances or desire, or both, decide that Canada will be the country of their adoption, will induce other brothers and sisters, parents and other relatives to come and settle in this country.

Radium Moved To Cave

Steps Taken In Manchester To Avoid Chance Of Tragedy

Radium from the Christie Hospital and Holt Radium Institute in Manchester has been transferred to a cave in the Derbyshire Hills as a war measure.

The step was taken after the board was informed that if a bomb burst, up to 150 yards away from the hospital while a patient was being treated with radium, the explosion would burst the radium bottles, kill the patient and make the immediate neighborhood uninhabitable.

The delivery of milk on a house to house basis was begun in the Middle Ages. Cows were driven to each domicile and delivery was made on the spot.

Trying Out Experiment

Britons Will Soon Test Bacon From Tulp-Fed Hogs

Tulip bacon may be a new delicacy to tempt the appetite, if British ministry of agriculture experiments are successful.

At Kirton agricultural institute in Lincolnshire, tulip hogs, used for sale or propagation, were fed to pigs in place of meat. They were then sold or raised and cooked, to replace 25 per cent. of the cereal part of the meat ration. The resulting tulip bacon will shortly be tested.

The ministry adds this warning, however—daffodils are not suitable for feeding.

Ability of some animals to break off their legs at definite points is known as autotomy.

The Way To Advancement

A Man Must Be Willing To Work In Order To Improve His Position

A year and more ago an ex-news-papper man in his early 20's donned overalls and doffed his white collar, and became a route man, with a truck, selling a perishable food product. He had to rise before 4 a.m., and his task carried him into the late afternoon hours. He had his griefs, yet he stuck to his job.

To-day this young man has a much better job, and is able to go back to a different type of collar and to tog himself up in other ways. He won job for a choice commercial traveler's job in a field of 400 entries, and he uses a motor car instead of a truck.

There's another young man, about the same age, who has been idle for a year. He professes to want to be a commercial traveler, but he is depending on pull—very largely—to get a job. In the past year he has rusted badly, and his character has deteriorated. He is limp. He lives at home—sloppy. His self-motivation is feeble. He has not kept himself in good form during the past year.

What I want to say is: Have a choice of jobs, but don't be tasteless and badly paid job, if you can't get any better one, and then from it work toward a better job—one in line with your goal.—J. C. Kirkwood in Marketing.

Library For Troops

Canadian Authors' Series To Be Sent Overseas

"Canadian Authors' Series," a library of books being formed by the education division of Canadian Legion War Services, has been increased by two autographed volumes by Premier Minister Mackenzie King, Lieut.-Col. Wilfred Bovey, national chairman of the division, has announced.

Mr. King's, "The Secret of Heroism" and "Industry and Humanity" will be sent, along with 200 other volumes from the well-known Canadian writers, to the C.L.W.S. education headquarters in London. The books will form the basis of a large library being established for men of the Dominion's fighting forces who are studying trades and professions under the Legion's wartime scheme.

In presenting his book, Mr. King congratulated the Legion "for the educational services, and upon the novel idea of obtaining copies of works by Canadian authors."

Included in the shipment leaving Canada are works by Canon E. G. Scott, Sir Charles G. D. Roberts, Maury de la Roche, Lawrence J. Burpee, L. M. Montgomery, Hector Charlesworth, S. A. Bourinot, P. D. Ross, Lloyd Douglas and others. Most of the books bear the autographs of their authors.

Purchases By Tourists

Ten Per Cent. Tax On Goods Brought Back From U.S.

Goods brought into Canada by Canadian tourists returning from the United States will be subject to the 10 per cent. tax, announced in the budget, on value for duty on all imports except under the British preferential tariff.

Previously tourists returning from the United States could bring $100 worth of goods into Canada duty free but now they will have to pay this 10 per cent. import.

This coupled with the 11 per cent. difference in the exchange rate actually puts the equivalent of a 21 per cent. duty on goods being brought into the Dominion from the United States.

Under the $100 exemption during the fiscal year ended last March 31 about $1,000,000 worth of goods came into Canada, national revenue department officials estimated.

One of the most popular articles brought to Canada under the $100 tourist exemption clause have been radios. These now will be subject to a total of 31 per cent. that must be paid to get them to Canada, 11 per cent. by reason of the exchange differential, 10 per cent. radio tax and 10 per cent. on all imports except under the British preferential tariff.

Explanation Is Simple

Writer Tells Why Germany Has Not Gone to War

The democratic world has been waiting for seven years now for Germany to collapse economically. Financial experts in Paris, London and New York could not conceive how Hitler could spend so much and still keep his hands above water. They pointed to Germany's depleted gold reserves and to the steady loss of foreign assets. Mr. Fritz Sternberg, author of "From Nazi Bores to Why Hitler Can't Win," writing in New Republic tells how Nazi authorities have done it.

Hitler, writes Mr. Sternberg, has spent 80,000,000,000 marks on rearmament. What did the Nazis get the money? From the people, answers Mr. Sternberg. To-day there are about 20,000,000 gainfully employed Germans. This is 8,000,000 more than in 1932. But the 20,000,000 to-day actually get less wages than the 12,000,000 did in 1932. This is because taxes have been increased sharply, because the mark has depreciated in value and because inflation costs are up tremendously. In order to encourage farming the tax burden has been shifted largely from rural lands to industrial workers.

This solution of the problem is easy. The Nazis have made full use of Germany's labor shortage. There is virtually no unemployment. Yet the men who work day and night in Germany's labor industries receive almost nothing for their effort. Production is vast but the cost remains the same. Mr. Sternberg believes that a day of reckoning must come. Hope of victory has inspired the millions of German workers. So far a huge corps of Gestapo agents and terrorist troops have kept opposition silent. As long as Germany wins victories the people will not rebel, an explosion is inevitable, the writer argues, when the war begins to drag and German armies are held back.—Watertown, N.Y., Times.

Accepts Soldier's Badge

Queen Elizabeth Pinned Regimental Decoration On Her Own Coat

During their tour of Lancashire, the King and Queen spoke to a party of soldiers. One of the soldiers who saw that the Queen was very interested in the regimental band, and that they all wearing unpinned it for her coat and asked Her Majesty if she would accept the badge. Queen thanked the soldier, took the badge and pinned it to the lapel on her own coat.

Boys! Impetuously eager for 15-year-old Billy Carswell a brief audience with the King and Queen. Billy found himself hidden behind a row of uniformed naval experts. So he poked his fair-haired, grubby head between two of the experts. The King and Queen saw him and the Queen asked him: "How old are you and what are you doing?" "I'm 15, Your Majesty," Billy replied, "and I am a check boy." "Check the men in at the lodge."

Escaped The Gestapo

Life Of First Czech In The R.C.A.F. Outlives Nazis

A story of escape from the ruthless oppression of the Gestapo in Czechoslovakia with the happy ending in the pretty blonde heroine's arrival at the side of her airman husband in Canada, was related in Toronto, Mrs. Stanislaus Mytnar.

Left in Czechoslovakia thirteen months ago when Stanislaus escaped to fight "on the right side" should have occurred, Mrs. Mytnar faced a long Gestapo inquisition in her home. She finally was let alone when she pretended her husband had divorced her and gone away with another woman and she produced a letter, sent by previous arrangement, to prove it.

Putting as a German girl on a holiday, Mrs. Mytnar got into Italy in February and from there tried to get to Canada, where her husband was the first Czech accepted in the R.C.A.F. Official red tape prevented an early sailing and arrangements for the voyage were not made till four hours before the Manhattan, last United States ship, left Italy.

SELECTED RECIPES

GINGERBREAD

- 1 cup butter or half lard
- 1 cup Bee Hive Golden Corn Syrup
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 2 cups molasses
- 3 cups flour
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup corn baking powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 2 teaspoons ginger
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- 1 teaspoon salt

Cream butter and sugar, add beaten eggs, then syrup and molasses beating well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Bake in greased pan in a slow oven for approximately 40 minutes. This can easily be halved to make smaller cakes.

HAM BRAID CAKES

- 1 pound ground raw smoked ham
- 1 pound ground lean pork
- 1 cup onion, finely chopped
- 1 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 1 cup Kelllogg's All-Bran
- 1 cup canned peach halves
- Combine meats with eggs, cloves, brown sugar, milk and All-Bran. Shape into small cakes; place in separate pan and heat in oven during last 10 minutes meat is baking. Serve two ham cakes with one peach half. Note: Grilled bananas or sliced apples may be substituted for peach halves.
- 10. Light servings (16 cakes 2 1/2 inches in diameter).

To forget your troubles wear light shoes.

A Very Old Industry

First Methods Used For Canning Foods Were Very Primitive

To "eat what you can and can what you can't"—the original version of the canning industry—actually was the idea of two Englishmen back in 1807.

With the war on when iron rations are the backbone of the soldier and the housewife at home set up a "tinners' lobby" in a tin at Dartford Iron Works in 1807, their methods were primitive. And a can opener wouldn't have been needed. The cans had to be opened with a hammer and chisel.

But the idea caught on and William Edward Parry, the explorer, took a supply of canned goods on his quest of the Northwest Passage in 1821 and on three subsequent voyages.

Arguments against canning are defeated by the fact that a can of carrots and gray-museum place from Parry's third Arctic voyage in 1821—was opened in 1938 and found to contain, even at that date, as equivalent of "carotene" to fresh carrots, a proof that foods do not lose their vitamins in canning.

Other provisions sealed in 1826 and opened in 1861 were found to be still — perfectly good condition.

The Young Raleighs

Half War But Give Them That England May Live

There is a tragic perfume to the relentless logic in the life of Lieut. W. S. Frouzay, young English officer, who was killed in the heroic defence of Calais at the age of 28.

Under the name of Wallace Douglas he was also an actor and was one of the first of many to play the role of Raleigh in Journey's End, a character that typified all that is best in English youth, and whose life, too, it will be recalled, closed in the glow of sacrificial splendour.

There were many Raleighs in the last war; there are many of them in the ranks of the young men of the type whom dear old Mr. Chips saw leave the Gothic halls and the light towers by the hundreds. They fight, not because they relish this brutal business of war, but because they are willing to die that England may live.—Hamilton Spectator.

ELEVATORS REFUTE CHARGES OF HIGH STORAGE EARNINGS

Detailed information relating to elevator earnings was laid before the Board of Grain Commissioners at the annual hearing relating to country and terminal tariffs held in Winnipeg. United Grain Growers, Pools and Line Companies appeared before the Board and requested continuation of present schedule of charges.

G. W. P. Heffelfinger president of the North-West line elevators association presented figures refute charges made by uninformed persons who have left the inference that elevator companies were making exorbitant profits from storage at the expense of the Government Wheat Board.

Mr. Heffelfinger said: "Recently we selected fourteen representative companies among our members operating approximately 2,865 country elevators, with a total rated capacity of 49,000,000 bushels and 10 terminals at Fort William and Port Arthur with a rated capacity of 49,000,000 bushels. We have secured from these companies a statement of their total storage earned from the Canadian Wheat Board between Aug. 1st 1939 and May 31st, 1940. In the case of country elevators these storage earnings amount to two and two-thirds cents per bushel on wheat board grain in the case of terminal elevators the total storage earnings from all sources amount to one and four-tenths cents per bushel."

The president of the line elevators association pointed out that the operating costs and plant maintenance of country and terminal elevators were mounting to the necessity of larger sales, better cleaning equipment, increased labor costs at the head of the lakes, increased taxation, and the necessity of guarding against sabotage. He contended that the present storage rate which has been in existence for some years, of one-thirtieth of a cent per day, was originally constructed with the idea of providing a reasonable charge over a period of years and that since no one had ever suggested an increase during poor crop years it was totally unfair to suggest a decrease in good crop years.

THE WEEK IN EDMONTON

So, and newly elected president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association declared upon his return to Edmonton from the Banff-Jasper highway. Mr. Rice headed a group of one hundred editors from all over Canada who made the trip. It was the culminating feature in the program of the annual convention of the association held in Calgary. Agreement in the excellence of the highway was voiced by others of the party.

Fire situation in Alberta forests was considerably improved by recent rains, officials of the forestry department report. Fires west of Turner Valley in the Bow River reserve are now under control and crews are being reduced it was announced. Traffic is proceeding normally along the Banff-Jasper highway although fire is still burning in the western end of the Banff park. Authorities hope to halt the blaze with a back fire.

Formed under order in council of the provincial government to act as special constables and to help safeguard the province in war time two battalions each of 700 officers and men are to be organized as the Veterans Volunteer Reserve in Edmonton. The order was passed at the request of the veterans and is being tried upon at 200 recruits in the province it is reported. A force of 10,000 men is expected. The scheme is entirely voluntary and without pay. To see limit is being set and reasonable physical fitness will ensure membership in the reserve.

Crop conditions in Alberta are good, according to Hon. D. B. Mullen (minister of agriculture) in a departmental crop report. Recent rains benefited crops in areas where drought conditions were becoming serious. Hayrick has begun and yields are reported as very satisfactory. Grasshoppers damaged certain areas in the extreme south-west of the province while local hailstorms destroyed some crops in several districts, more rain is needed in some sections to properly fill the crop, though conditions of all field crops have improved greatly, said Mr. Mullen.

Confident that the provincial Normal school building at Canmore will be in shape to handle British guest children was expressed by T. R. Blaine, superintendent of the Child Welfare Branch which is handling the children. Provincial authorities announced recently that the Canmore building will be used as a distributing depot from which new arrivals

SOL THE SCORCHER

The extreme heat of summer is a real danger. Excessive high temperature is a similar danger to those who work in hot places and who fail to take precautions against heat-stroke and heat exhaustion.

Heat stroke and heat exhaustion are radically different in their effect upon the patient and in the treatment required.

In heatstroke the face is red or purple, the skin is dry and hot, the temperature measured by the thermometer, high and the patient is unconscious. In heat exhaustion, much the opposite is the rule. The face is pale, the skin moist and cool, and the temperature low; the person is usually conscious. Remember the differences. In heatstroke the patient is in heat exhaustion a moist skin.

What should be done in these cases? First call a doctor. Then remember that the hot body should be cooled and the cold body warmed in heatstroke by the patient on his back in a shady place and remove as much clothing as society will allow. Sponge body with cold water. Apply icebag or cold cloths to the head. Give no stimulants but after the patient has become conscious let him have all the cool water he will drink.

In heat exhaustion lay the patient in reclining position. Loosen clothing.
